MASSACRE HORRIBLE BEYOND DESCRIPTION

Turks Slaughtered Men, Women and Children Indiscriminately At Kastoria

POPULAR FEELING IN BULGARIA IS DECIDEDLY WARLIKE

British Correspondent After Careful Investigation Wires His Paper Today That the Turkish Atrocities in the Balkans Have Been Underestimated.

Sofia, Sept. 18.—(Bulletin)—The reports of the massacre of the inhabitants of Kastoria are corroborated by dispatches received today. These latter reports state that the town is still burning. The massacre of the inhabitants is said to have been horrible beyond description. The Turks slaughtered Bulgarians and Greeks, men, women and children, indiscriminately.

Sofia, Sept. 18.—The Bulgarian capital this morning is in a state of suppressed excitement, which shows itself on the faces of all. The report that the entire population of Kastoria, numbering in the neighborhood of 10,000, had been wiped out by the Turks, has stirred the population to the core.

The Macedonian sympathizers, of whom there are thousands, are today clamoring for vengeance on the porte. The chances are that a declaration of hostilities against Turkey will immediately follow. Even should Prince Ferdinand and his advisers continue to hold back, it is probable that they would be overruled by popular feeling, which is decidedly Balkanic.

London, Sept. 18.—The Belgrade correspondent of the Westminster Gazette today wires his paper stating that an exhaustive investigation on his part has not only tended to confirm reports of Turkish atrocities in the Balkans, but has shown him that they have been underestimated. He says:

"Starting with my sympathies for the Turks, I have found overwhelming evidence convincingly proving that the Turkish atrocities are rather underestimated in the reports of the British consuls, bankers and other unprejudiced persons."

"M. Tzokoff, the Serbian minister of foreign affairs, tells me that he knows of cases of starving Macedonian women who are wandering in the forests and who, having three children, have killed two of them to preserve the life of the third. The wanderers, he added, will all perish within two months unless some aid reaches them."

quate and urges the immediate mobilization of the whole Bulgarian army, pointing out that the experience of other nations, France, the United States and Austria, has proved that it is always necessary to display strength when dealing with Turkey.

The paper advises the government to act now, when the people of Europe are evidencing encouragement of Bulgaria.

With the calling out of the reserves of the fourth and fifth corps Turkey is now on a war footing, only two Arabian corps remaining at peace strength.

The fresh mobilization, according to German military opinion, will take three weeks, but if the troops are to be employed in European Turkey it will take considerably longer. A month from now, however, Turkey will have all the reserves available.

PLANS OF THE POWERS.
London, Sept. 18.—It is announced here that Russia and Austria have made fresh proposals to Great Britain, which, if carried out, will, it is hoped, restore order in Macedonia.

It is learned that Italy has approved the Austro-Russian move regarding intervention in Macedonia, and that France will doubtless make similar representations at Sofia and Constantinople. Russia has signified that any attempt at a popular movement in Bulgaria in support of the Macedonian insurgents will meet with her strongest disapproval.

PETER IN DANGER.
Vienna, Sept. 18.—A cipher dispatch received here from Belgrade reports that King Peter of Serbia, ever since the murders of King Alexander frustrated their plans to make his brother commander in chief of the Serbian army, is in deadly fear of his life and has made two attempts to escape from the Kronak. During his short reign he has managed to make himself strongly disliked by all classes of the population, especially outside the city of Belgrade. No one distrusts him more than the officers who killed his predecessor. It is said King Peter has appealed to the czar as well as Emperor Francis Joseph for protection and that they have refused to render him any aid.

Chicago, Sept. 18.—The condition of Sir Thomas Lipton continues to improve. The following bulletin was issued at 5 o'clock this morning by Dr. Thomas, the attending physician:

"The patient slept six hours; no pain; temperature normal; pulse 78; condition favorable."

At 8 o'clock the meeting in the big tent, corner Church and Sixth streets, will begin. Mayor Johnson will be followed by Tax Expert Witt of Cleveland, and by Hon. Frank S. Monnett.

Just Taxation, Home Rule for Cities, and other live issues will be discussed. The tent has a large seating capacity and the people are invited to attend the meeting. The ladies are invited to attend. Remember the meeting will begin at 8 o'clock. Be on hand early.

FORMER CHIEF

In One of Department Bureaus and a Prominent New York Politician are Indicted.

Washington, Sept. 18.—(Bulletin)—It was learned today that two persons indicted yesterday by the federal grand jury in the postal fraud cases were a former chief of one of the bureaus of the postoffice department, who has already been indicted on other charges, and a prominent New York state politician.

There are three bills, the first charging the two men with conspiracy to defraud the government in the sale to the department of a device in which the politician is interested, the second charging the postoffice official with accepting a bribe, and the third charging the New York man with offering a bribe. The New Yorker is one whose name has been mentioned in connection with the recent investigations.

THE JETT TRIAL.

Cynthiana, Ky., Sept. 18.—Five witnesses for the commonwealth were examined in the Jett trial Thursday afternoon. Three stated that they saw Jett when Cockrell was killed and that he was in the upper window of the court house, from which direction the shots were fired. The testimony of the others was unimportant. When court convened this morning, Jett appeared looking worn and worried. Noah Heters, the first witness today, testified that he stood outside the court house 15 or 20 feet from the door when Cockrell was shot. He did not see any shooting and he thought the shot came from the other side of the street.

CHAMBERLAIN QUIT

Secretary for the Colonies, Chancellor of Exchequer Ritchie and Secretary for India Have Resigned.

London, Sept. 18.—(Bulletin)—The Birmingham correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph Company hears on the highest authority that the resignations of other members of the cabinet will be handed in shortly.

London, Sept. 18.—The resignations of Colonial Secretary Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer Ritchie and Lord George Hamilton from the cabinet form the chief topic of comment in the morning and afternoon papers.

JOSEPH CHAMBERLAIN.

The provincial papers' comments show that they are badly confused over the resignations. Surprise is the predominant note.

It now seems hardly possible that the government will be able to hold on until the first of the year, although the dissolution is not expected until after the first part of October, when Premier Balfour's long promised speech on the tariff question will be given. Even should dissolution be averted temporarily, it is hardly probable that the government free traders will tolerate the retention of Austen Chamberlain in the cabinet where he could act as his father's observer of what was transpiring. It now looks as though the temporary arrangement in the ministerial family would be the appointment of Austen Chamberlain to succeed Ritchie; the placing of W. St. John Broderick, at present secretary for war, in the office of secretary of India office; either Arnold Foster or the Earl of Percy in charge of the war office, and Lord Milner as colonial secretary. The crisis finds the Conservatives camp more badly split than that of the Liberals, who seem to be constantly gaining strength, where the former are constantly losing it. The Conservative ranks are now divided into three camps, the free trade advocates of retaliation and those in favor of Chamberlain's preferential tariff. The free trade section includes three former chancellors of the exchequer, Hicks Beach, Ritchie and Goschen. In addition to these are included a number of younger fighters such as Winston Churchill and Lord Hugh Cecil.

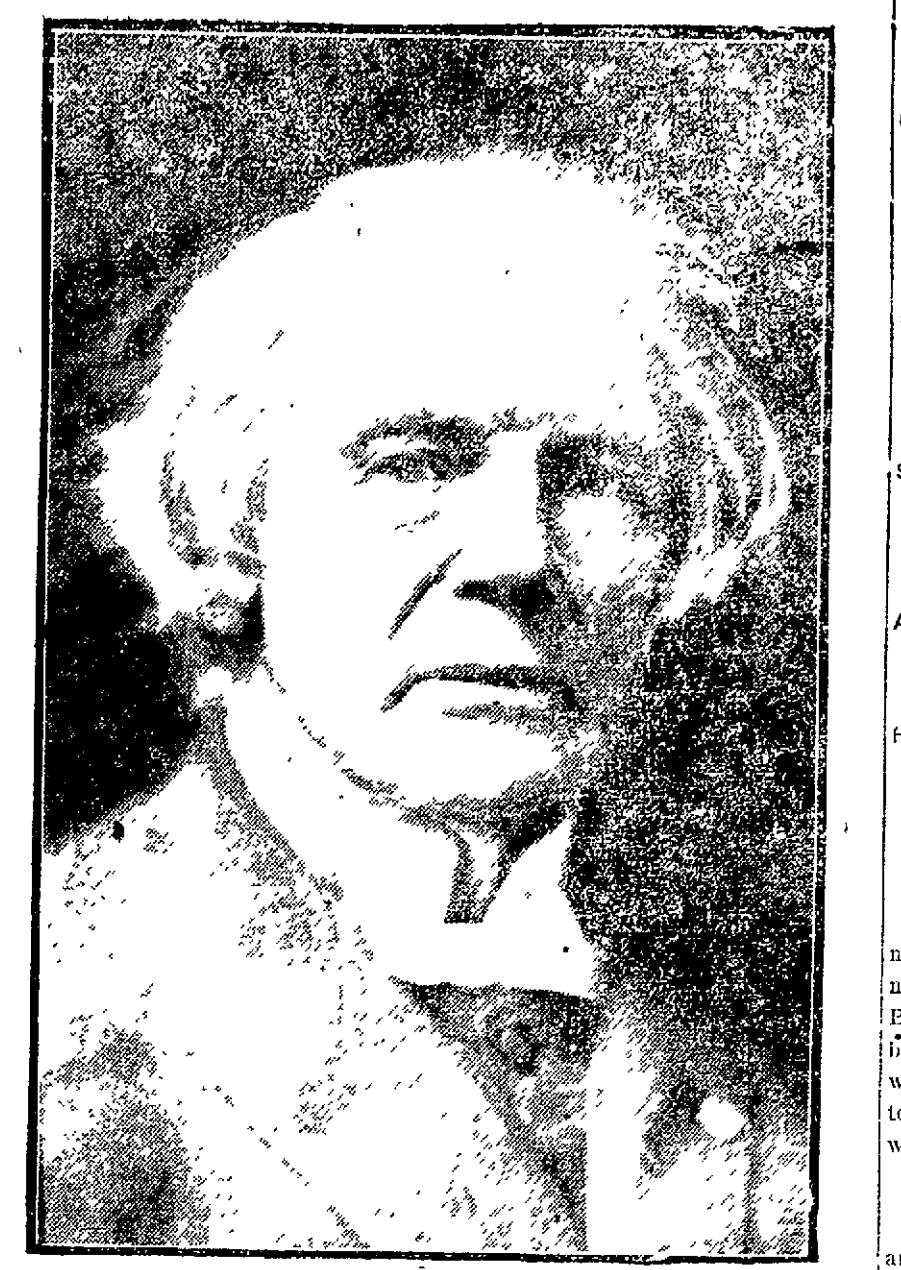

The preferential can have no man really in the front of public life except Chamberlain. The Liberals, on the other hand, are united in favor of free trade, their only drawback being that they have no conspicuous leader. There is the new element of labor candidates, who are not attached to either party, to be taken into consideration, but it is generally believed that this element will not be much of a factor in the next election. Free trade will be the point at issue and it is probable that it will win the next election, the most interesting one since 1885.

London, Sept. 18.—The official announcement of the resignation of Mr. Chamberlain and the other members of the cabinet was made late last night at Downing street in the following communication:

"The following ministers have tendered their resignations, which have been accepted by the king: Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, Secretary for the Colonies; Right Hon. C. T. Ritchie, Chancellor of the Exchequer; and Lord George Hamilton, Secretary for India."

In a lengthy letter to the press Mr. Chamberlain expressed the belief that he can promote the principles dear to him from the outside.

THIS VENERABLE BISHOP WAS ONCE A CARPENTER AND THEN A REPORTER

BISHOP J. M. WALDEN.

During the recent Methodist Episcopal Conference in Cincinnati a man of striking personality was accorded many honors. This was Bishop J. M. Walden, who enjoys a more than national reputation. With Minat Harrison and other men of prominence, Bishop Walden was a student in the Ohio Farmers' College at College Hill. Previous to entering the ministry Bishop Walden was a newspaper reporter in Cincinnati, and as such saw many exciting times in the anti-slavery riots some years previous to the Civil war. Bishop Walden was an ardent abolitionist, and after the war was one of the charter members of the Freedmen's Aid and Southern Educational Society.

THREE DOCTORS KEPT BUSY

Administering Purgatives and Stimulants—Church Yard and Farm House Were Hospitals.

Geneva, N. Y., Sept. 18.—Forty-two men, women and children are poisoned from eating ice cream at a sweet pea carnival at Ballona, eight miles southwest of this city, under the auspices of the ladies' aid society of the First Methodist church. Those persons who partook of the cream were thrown into violent attacks of nausea, cramps and prostration. The church yard and houses near the church were used as emergency hospitals and when Dr. Schuyler Lot, the local physician, was unable to care for all of the sick, Dr. Means of this city and Dr. Sanborn of Penn Yan, were summoned and found that the people were suffering from poison which probably was produced by the action of germs on the milk. They administered purgatives and stimulants. It was reported here this afternoon while many of the patients were confined to their homes today, only one is in a serious condition.

AMUSEMENTS.

The attraction at the Auditorium this evening will be "Uncle Josh Sprucey." This company never fails to draw a crowd in Newark.

NEXT MONDAY NIGHT.

After waiting a very long time for, and hearing a great deal about "When Knighthood Was in Flower," theater patrons in this city will have an opportunity to judge the play that set all New York talking, and where it ran for thirty-six consecutive weeks at the Criterion theater, for on next Monday night Roselle Knott, whom Manager Frank L. Perley has selected to succeed Julia Marlowe, will be seen at the Auditorium in the role of "Mary Tudor," the winsome heroine of Paul Kester's dramatization of Charles Major's romantic novel. The production, scenic, is elaborate and picturesque, being the same one that Miss Marlowe used during the play's long run in New York. The cast by which "When Knighthood Was in Flower" is to be done here is, with the exception of Miss Knott, almost identical with the one that supported Julia Marlowe.

AT GREAT SOUTHERN.

Klaw & Erlanger are admittedly the greatest producers in America. During the past 12 years their efforts in melodrama, opera, farce comedy and extravaganza have eclipsed all competition. In fact, they have achieved the distinction of making the most extravagant costume and scenic productions ever presented on any stage in the world. "Ben Hur" was considered the greatest achievement, but they have gone even farther this season and have sent out "The Sleeping Beauty and the Beast," which the management has been tastefully painted and decorated.

AT THE OLD HOMESTEAD.

Schaller Bros., proprietors of the "Old Homestead" saloon and restaurant on West Main street, have just completed the work of remodeling their brilliant and pool room, so that it is the greatest achievement, but they have gone even farther this season and have sent out "The Sleeping Beauty and the Beast," which the management has been tastefully painted and decorated.

ECZEMA SETS THE SKIN ON FIRE

No disease causes so much bodily discomfort, or itches, and burns like Eczema. Beginning often with a slight redness of the skin it gradually spreads, followed by pustules or blisters from which a gummy, sticky fluid oozes which dries and scales off or forms hard looking sores and scabs. It appears on different parts of the body but oftenest upon the back, arms, hands, legs and face, and is a veritable torment at times, especially at night or when overheated.

In 1896 I experienced at times patches on the inside of my hands that itched and burned, causing much discomfort. At first I was convinced that it was caused by Eczema. I consulted several physicians and a number of specialists, and used several external applications, receiving but slight temporary relief. In February I decided to try S. S. S., and in less than a month I experienced a change for the better, and by May all symptoms had disappeared, and I found myself entirely cured and have had no return of the disease since. W. F. BRUSH, Manager Stockman's Advertising Agency, Station A, Kansas City, Mo.

The cause of Eczema is a too acid and general unhealthy condition of the blood. The terrifying itching and burning is produced by the overflow through the glands and pores of the skin of the fiery poisons with which the blood-current is overloaded. While external applications, such as washes, soaps, salves and powders are soot hling and cooling they do not enter into the blood itself or touch the real cause of the disease, but S. S. S. does, and purifies, enriches, and strengthens the thin acid blood and cleanses and builds up the general system, when the skin clears off and Eczema with all its terrifying symptoms disappears.

LAUGHS AT CONSUMPTION FROM HOME IN TREE TOP

Springfield, O., Sept. 18.—Among the fastened to the branches of the tree, branches of a gigantic white oak tree, at one end is a seat, on which you can perch yourself with what courage you can muster, while you grasp another rope and slowly draw yourself up the trunk of the huge tree. Around the trunk, at a point where the first large branch projects, a platform has been built by Steinberger. This is large enough to hold 20 people at one time.

ORIN STEINBERGER.
residence a view of 20 miles of beautiful Mad River valley can be obtained, and the expanse of green boughs extending for miles in either direction, on a level with one's eyes, furnishes, indeed, a curious sensation.

Six months ago Steinberger was pronounced to be in the last stages of consumption. He was told his death was a question of a few months. In this extremity the wild, free life of the woods appealed to him. He became imbued with the idea that if there was any straw which he could clutch to save himself it was the tonic of nature. But he was told an ordinary camp life would do him no good—the elixir which was to overcome the germs of the dread disease sapping his life must be a powerful one, indeed. He determined to go to the very heart of nature and live the life of the birds. He sought out one of the highest trees in the county, and made the startling statement that he intended to take up his residence among its branches until he was either taken away dead or could walk away a healthy man.

Steinberger, by profession, is an artist, and this, perhaps, is one of the reasons why the picturesque life in the tree tops appealed so strongly to him. For two months Steinberger has lived in his strange residence, and during that time he has gained 20 pounds in weight, and the tan of health has returned to his face. He is by no means cured, but his condition at the present time compared with that of six months ago, shows an improvement which is marvellous.

HAS AN ELEVATOR.
When it is stated that Steinberger's residence is 67 feet above the ground the question can well be asked, "How on earth does the man manage to get up and down from his perch and convey his food and so forth?" This can be answered in a single word, a "pulley." Steinberger has constructed an old rope swing or ladder, which is operated by means of a block and tackle.

BEATS SANITARIUMS.
It is surprising how fine the air is in the top of the tree. The somewhat heavy atmosphere of the woods at the bottom of the tree leaves the impression of a sultry day. But when one has stepped from the rope ladder onto Steinberger's platform the fresh breezes blowing through the tree tops have a veritable October flavor. Steinberger says the atmosphere above the trees has a purity which one cannot appreciate until he has cast conventions to the wind and lived in a tree top for a month. "Talk about your sanitariums and your mountain air," said the artist, enthusiastically. "If people only knew it, they are throwing away good money in going away. They can get the same thing in purer quantities, right at home. I will venture to say that the early morning breezes which I enjoy up in this tree are fully as refreshing and healthful as the air of the mountains. I wish the public would appreciate the discovery I have made. I feel that credit is due me. If others will follow my example I am confident they will be benefited as much as I have been."

DOES SOME CLIMBING.
Another feature of his life which Steinberger has found especially beneficial, is the exercise he has obtained in climbing trees. He has always been fond of this pastime, and, indeed, this first suggested to him the idea of taking up his abode in a tree top. He has become quite an expert in tree climbing this summer, and is now able to go to the top of a 75 foot tree with a dexterity truly amazing. Steinberger, himself, frequently gets to Camp Aloft by climbing the tree without any help from the rope ladder. When it is said that the trunk of the tree is absolutely without any branches until Steinberger's platform is reached, the difficulty of this feat can be appreciated.

WHEN THE CRADLE ROCKS.
Steinberger has had many odd experiences during his residence in "The Tree Top Studio." On one occasion a bullet from a careless hunter's gun passed within an inch of his head while he was sleeping. High winds have also given him several thrilling experiences, his platform, although securely constructed, several times quivering before a sweeping blast. On one occasion he was almost blown from his perch, barely saving himself by grasping the edge of the platform.

Steinberger had always led an indoor life. For several years he was instructor in the art department of Wittenberg college this city. He has managed to build up quite a reputation for himself by his work, and overwork, it is said, precipitated consumption. Realizing that he must do something at once he went to his father's farm, near Glee, Echo, this county, but his sojourn there failed to benefit him, and last June he put into execution his plan of living in a tree top.

This motor-brougham, which has just been built especially for town use, of the Prince of Wales, is the latest thing in the motor type of a vehicle, which is being used more and more by fashionable Londoners, and the only one of which by the help of the horse is particularly strong and light. The body of the prince's new car hangs especially low on springs, which are so light that the great ease of the battery boxes are especially light, and the driver's seat is low, so that those inside may have a good view through the glass at the front.

MAMMOTH WAS IN COLD STORAGE THOUSANDS OF YEARS

BODY OF A GREAT ANIMAL UNEARTHED IN SIBERIA—ALL PORTIONS, EVEN THE EYES, PERFECTLY PRESERVED—UNDIGESTED FOOD IN THE STOMACH.

ONLY EXISTING COMPLETE BODY OF MAMMOTH

St. Petersburg, Sept. 11—Completely preserved, with hide, hair, eyes, bones and flesh as natural as the moment it died, a huge mammoth that has been encased in ice since the prehistoric period, has been uncovered in Siberia and now stands in Museum of the Academy of Science in this city.

The mammoth was first seen early in the summer by a Cossack army officer named Jalovsky, who was attracted to the spot by the odor of decaying flesh. The back alone of the great beast was visible through the ice.

Jalovsky reported the find to the Academy of Science, and Dr. Otto Herz, with a party, at once went to the desolate spot. Decomposition had set in in the fleshy part of the back, but had not proceeded far enough to damage the body as a scientific specimen. The animal in his stood near 15 feet high, and the enormous tusks still remain.

It was found that the body was so well preserved that food in its stomach was in an undigested state and its character could be easily determined. Careful investigation led to the conclusion that the big animal had slipped into a sand hole from which it could not extricate itself, and that snow and ice had filled in afterward, holding it fast. This is supposed to have occurred at the beginning of winter, followed afterwards by heavy formations of ice all about its body. If this theory is correct then it follows that the body had remained constantly for thousands of years in cold storage.

Dr. Herz writes upon this subject: The impromptu grave into which the animal plunged was made of sand and clay, and his fall probably caused masses of neighboring soil to loosen and cover him. This happened in the late autumn or at the beginning of winter, to judge by the vegetable matter found in the stomach; at any rate shortly afterward the grave became flooded, ice following.

This completed the cold storage still further augmented by vast accumulations of soil all round—a shell of ice hundreds of feet thick enclosed by yards upon yards of soil that remained frozen for the greater part of the year. Thus the enormous carcass was preserved for how long no one knows, through hundreds of centuries, perhaps, until not so many years ago some movement of the earth spat forth the fossil mausoleum, leaving it exposed to sun and wind until gradually the ice crust wore off and revealed to the passing Cossack the long-midden treasure.

IN INDIANA

YOUNG M'FARLAND ARRESTED ON THURSDAY.

Chief Sheridan Leaves for Knightstown to Bring the Former Warder Bellboy Back

Police Chief James Sheridan left on Thursday evening for Knightstown, Ind., where he will get James McFarland who is under arrest there on information furnished by the Newark police department. McFarland some weeks ago was bellboy at the Warden and was sent to the bank with $114 to deposit. He left town with the money in company with another young man named Knisley, since which time the police have made every effort to locate him. Chief Sheridan finally received a tip that he was traveling with a carnival company that was due to exhibit in the Indiana town, and he wired a description with instructions to arrest McFarland and hold him for the arrival of Newark officers.

Thursday evening he received word that the young man had been arrested. Nothing is known about Knisley.

Hear Tom L. Johnson discuss the campaign issues in the big tent, corner Sixth and Church, tonight.

Johnson and Monnett will speak here tonight.

Tonight the people of Newark will be addressed by Hon. Tom L. Johnson and Hon. F. S. Monnett. The meeting will be held at the corner of Sixth and Church streets and will be in a tent with large seating capacity. The five issues will be ably discussed by distinguished men and the people of Newark and vicinity are invited to hear them.

To make sure that the senatorship will not again be tainted, it is only necessary to elect John H. Clarke.

Mr. Hanna is so anxious about his next election that you can't pry his mouth open about his first one.

There is more hope for the common, ordinary political fool than for the one who said in his newspaper recently that: "Marcus Alonzo Hanna is the peerless statesman of the age." After him no one will follow.

Considering the fact that the Republican leaders insist that the Democrats present no live issues, they stand in great fear and perturbation of the deceased. Like the Chinese, they seem to have more fear of the dead than the living.

If our Republican friends were so extremely sure of winning a victory at the coming election they would depend more on the justice and argument in behalf of their cause than upon poorly constructed falsehoods and mere personalities.

The abuse of Mayor Tom L. Johnson in which the Republican editors indulge, even up to the edge of scurrility, is no proof that it is the part of wisdom for the people of Ohio to turn the state government and the legislature over to the Hannaized leaders of the Republican party.

It is admitted by Hanna, Diek and Herrick, all three, that Cuyahoga county will go Democratic in November. Good enough. And the same reasons exist in all the other 87 counties for ousting Hannaism as exist in Cuyahoga. Hannaism is at a lower range there, that is all.

The Standard Oil and Steel Trusts present quarterly exhibits of a prosperity that declares 50 per cent. dividends. The dividends are declared all right enough, but about 95 per cent. of them go to the millionaires, who do not need the money. Do you know of a workman who is drawing a 50 per cent.

dividend on his labor? Of course not. The big dividends are for the millionaires, not the men who work.

The men who compose the coal and meat and other trusts find it very convenient to refuse to tell the truth under oath, as it would incriminate them. Very well. The burglar, the robber, the murderer and the common thief are excused from telling the truth for the same reason. The "excuse" is no better in one case than in the other.

Some years ago General Hanna did not prepare a line of retreat. When the battle was over they came near getting him before he could leave the state. Your Uncle Mark will have a special train with steam up at the Columbus station ready for any emergency when the next senatorial election is over. He will take no chances the next time.

WIVES

HAPPY OVER CONVICTION OF HAROLD MILLS.

Former Ohio Man Sent to Prison While Three Wives Smiled and Thanked the Jurors.

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 18.—Three young women who had called him husband rejoiced when Harold C. Mills was found guilty of bigamy by a jury in Judge Brennan's court and sentenced to an indeterminate sentence in the penitentiary and a fine of $1,000.

Each of the three shook hands with each of the jurors and thanked him. Then "Let's watch him go to jail," said one. The three hurried to the jail elevator, scanned the convicted man and smiled sweetly as the guard hustled him into the cage.

On the witness stand Mills confessed to previous bigamous marriages in an effort to have his marriage to Miss Mary Butler, of Detroit, declared null. Attorney Blaney had sought to have the jury discharged upon the grounds that the state had not shown that the marriage to Miss Butler was legal. "Were you ever married before you were married to Miss Butler, and was that marriage in existence at the time you married her?" his attorney asked. "I was the husband of Sophia Headley, of St. Louis. I think at the time I married Miss Butler," answered Mills.

George S. Clow, superintendent of contracts at the Columbus, Ohio, penitentiary, gave Mills a black eye, figuratively. He took the stand and positively identified the defendant as an ex-convict who had served at least two terms, one of four years' duration. Lawyer Blaney was inclined to question the identification and hinted that Mr. Clow was mistaken. "Have you any description of the convict of whom you speak?" he asked.

Thereupon the defense subsided.

WANTED IN COLUMBUS.

Columbus, O., Sept. 18.—Harold C. Mills, the alleged bigamist, is wanted here on the charge of embezzling $400 from Otto Kanode, on May 26, 1899. At that time Mills was employed by the Cleveland Guaranty and Loan Association and had an office in the Marzetti block. Kanode deposited $400 with him, thinking it was with the Cleveland concern, and it is claimed that Mills skipped with the money.

The Corn Crop.

Chicago, Sept. 18.—After several days of the keenest anxiety over the threatening frost, the farmers of the west have taken stock of their corn crops and found that, while the damage from the unseasonable cold had been severe, they had come out far better than they had expected. That the greater part of the crop is safe is generally believed. Reports from central points all over the corn belt indicate that in most cases the probable damage had been overrated, and at least an average yield is in prospect.

MAYOR JOHNSON

Who Speaks Tonight at Newark Addressed Vast Audience at Coshocton Last Night---Had Trouble With His Auto.

Coshocton, Sept. 18.—At 11 o'clock yesterday, the "Red Devil" was standing on a road in the beautiful Tuscarawas valley four miles out of New Philadelphia. Mayor Johnson was on one side, his head bent down into the oil tank looking for a wire that had strayed, the chauffeur was tinkering with the "clutches" on the other side and on a nearby mound sat two disconsolate newspaper men launching apples and footing up their expense accounts. The situation had not changed in 30 minutes. "Looks like a walk," murmured one of the scribes. "Me for a farmer's trusty plow horse," replied the other. "Plague take the confounded thing," exclaimed Mayor Tom, "I wonder what in the deuce is the matter with her? Here, Tingle, let's see it in the coil box." So once more the mayor and the chauffeur began the work of taking the machinery apart. Down the road was an old farmer. "It's fourteen miles from school—well, I'll be dined," breaking off his song when his old horse sedately came to a standstill with its nose against the back of the machine. "What yer got in front there and why don't yer go ahead or git out of the road?" he cried. "Come around and see what we got and we can't get out of the road," answered the mayor. Grumblingly the old man pulled his horse off into the ditch and then the scowl on his face gave way to a broad and pleased smile. "Why, that's the 'red devil' and you're Mayor Tom," he exclaimed.

"That's what some folks call me." "Knew yer from yer pictures the moment I saw ye; but say, you don't look much like them cartoons in the Cleveland Leader, either. Where's the curl?"

The mayor laughed and took off his hat. "That Cleveland Leader is an awful liar some folks say, and I guess that's about right after all—you ain't got no curl all twisted up on your head. What's the matter with the machine?"

"Sparker's out of order," answered the mayor. "We can't get a spark to ignite the gasoline." "Is that all?" "Yes."

"Ain't yer got any matches?" The mayor gravely explained that the red devil was very particular and would only be satisfied with an electric spark.

"Well, Mayor Tom, I hope yer finds the spark, and yer going to git one Republican vote that I know of this fall—git up there, Billy."

"Much obliged," called the mayor as he again resumed his labors on the cantankerous coil box. Another hour passed, and still the "red devil" stubbornly resisted all efforts to make her move. Meanwhile through the telephone wires overhead were flashing anxious questions and answers between New Philadelphia and Newcomerstown. At the latter place a speech had been billed for noon and the landlord of the hotel was preparing a magnificent spread for the Johnson party.

"It's no use," finally exclaimed the candidate for governor. "Cover her up with the big apron and we'll go and hunt up a farmer to drive us back to New Philadelphia." An thus the "red devil" was left in the middle of the road in charge of a little boy to whom the mayor gave a dollar to watch it until a man could be sent out with a team to haul it back. One o'clock saw the party that had sailed away so merrily a few hours before coming slowly back to town distributed between two farmers' rigs. Here they caught an electric car for Canal Dover from which place they took a train for Newcomerstown, arriving there about 3:30.

o'clock. A crowd that packed the town hall heard the mayor talk for about 40 minutes. When he left for Coshocton several hundred people followed him to the depot.

Though the weather was cool, almost to the degree of discomfort, the people turned out in such numbers that the big tent was filled to the walls 20 minutes before the mayor and the local speakers arrived. It was probably the largest political gathering ever held here, hundreds of people being unable to get into the canvas auditorium. Mr. Johnson was accorded a veritable ovation when he appeared. He talked for over an hour, the absence of John H. Clark, candidate for senator, placing on him the duty of making, not only his own little talk but the big speech of the night. He spoke at some length on two cents, a mile railroad fare, explaining the immense profit made by the railroad, and the fact that men who have $30 to invest can now ride for two cents a mile, while those who have only 30 cents must pay 3 cents a mile.

"Whether I am elected governor or not, makes no difference," said Mayor Johnson, "but whether a legislature is elected that will represent the people of the state and not the privileged interests and monopolies, makes a big difference. In this fight the Democratic party, in my opinion is on the side of the people and the Republican party is on the side of the privileged classes. The people must decide and that they will decide right when they have studied these questions and understand them. I have no doubt. I believe the people can be depended upon to protect their own interests when they see that those interests are in jeopardy."

Mayor Johnson addressed 6000 people here last night and made a fine impression. He speaks in Newark tonight.

A NEW BOOK

Has just reached our table. It comes from the Methodist Book Concern, Cincinnati, O., and slips off the chaste and facile pen of Isaac Crook, D. D., LL.D., presiding elder of Chillicothe District, Ohio Conference, M. E. Church, formerly President of O. U. Athens, O.

A book emanating from such a pen and dressed up by such a publishing house is a sufficient warrant that it will be popular. The character of Jonathan Edwards stands out unique in history as the metaphysician of the nineteenth century.

Dr. Crook has touched the salient points in his life through the following captions: Family, Posterity, Education, Where? Local, When? Blue Laws, A Pair of Them, Metaphysician, Logician, Psychology, Doctrine, Double Mystus, Ecclesiastic, Preacher, Pastor, Pentecost, The Hall of Fame, Restitution, Reaction, Self-Denial, Smallpox, The Coming Edwards, Bibliography.

Dr. Crook, in bringing out this little book, has put this great mind in contact with over one hundred men. In all the walks of life, frequently using the in special contrast. From the rank of the character in hand, and from the ability of the author, the public at large has a right to expect a wide circulation. 9-18-11

GREATEST POWER PLANT IN WORLD FOR NEW YORK'S SUBWAY

New York, Sept. 17.—The greatest power plant in the world! Combined power of 120,000 horses! Building twice as large as Madison Square Garden. One thousand tons of coal to be used every day! These facts give some idea of the plant which will supply the "juice" to run the trains that will run one for the other through the New York subway when it is complete.

The power house is now in course of construction on the Hudson river at Fifty-fifth street. By the time it is completed and equipped it will have cost $7,000,000. The great coal bunker which in this case will be constructed of em granite up to a certain level immediately beneath the roof, will have above which it will be built of terra cotta. The coal will be brought by scows to the river-side of the power house and lifted by belt conveyors to an elevation of 30 feet above the street. From the bunkers it will be dropped by gravity to the furnace doors.

TONIGHT

THE JOHNSON MEETING WILL BE HELD HERE.

Big Tent Pitched at Corner of Church and Sixth Streets for the Meeting.

Mayor Tom L. Johnson left Coshocton in his automobile at 12 o'clock this noon and it was figured that he would reach Newark some time between 3 and 4 o'clock. Upon his arrival he will be entertained by the executive committee until 7 o'clock this evening, when he will be turned over to the reception committee, who will hold a reception in the parlors of the Hotel Warden, to give all who wish an opportunity of meeting the Democratic gubernatorial candidate.

After the reception the tent meeting is to be held, Judge S. M. Hunter being chairman. The speakers tonight will be Mayor Johnson, Tax Expert Witt and Hon. F. S. Monnett.

Preparations are now complete for the big Democratic meeting tonight, which is to be held at the corner of Sixth and Main streets, at which Mayor Tom L. Johnson, of Cleveland, Democratic candidate for governor, will be the principal speaker.

The big tent used for the Johnson meetings arrived in Newark at 9 o'clock this morning and was put up by ten men under George La Husen, who has charge of that work.

The tent is 124 by 168 feet and the seating capacity is often taxed by audiences anxious to hear Mayor Johnson in his characteristic addresses on equal taxation and home rule for cities.

The men and tent travel ahead of the mayor in a special car, which came over the Pan Handle from Coshocton, where a large meeting was held Thursday night.

Mayor Johnson and Hon. Frank Monnett will be the speakers this evening. All are invited to hear them.

PROF. WITT

Noted Tax Expert Will Give Illustrated Talk in Newark This Evening.

Professor Peter Witt, the noted tax expert, of Cleveland, arrived in Newark early this afternoon and immediately went to the tent of Tom L. Johnson to superintend the placing of his stereoscopic outfit. Professor Witt has made a study of the tax question and has been procured to deliver a number of illustrated addresses on the tax issue, in conjunction with the tent meetings of Mayor Johnson. Professor Witt will give his lecture immediately after Mayor Johnson concludes his talk.

STEEL TRADE

Outlook is Brighter—Decided Increase in Orders—U. S. Common Makes New Low Record.

New York, Sept. 18.—There seems to be no end to the selling of United States Steel common, which again established a new low record price at 18 1/2, which is 5-8 below the previous bottom price although at the close there was a rally to 19 1/4.

The professional bear operators worked very industriously all day long to compel selling of the stock by speculators whose margins were wiped out, and invite liquidation by legitimate holders, who paid very much more for their shares and who are now fearful that the pressure will be long enough maintained to force a still lower price.

The effect upon the market adversely by the decline of the steel stocks is far reaching, because the shares are so widely distributed.

A meeting of the members of the steel billet pool, which includes all of the important manufacturers in the United States, was held yesterday, and it was decided to maintain the present price.

Men who are well versed in the steel industry and its future prospects do not believe that the present reduced volume of orders will be long maintained.

Consumers had been so impressed with the idea that because of the cut in pig iron the prices of the finished articles would be reduced, that they have been withholding their contracts. It can be stated upon the authority of one individual in the trade who, above all others, should know the condition of affairs that there has been a decided increase in the orders booked during the past fortnight, and that the outlook is much brighter.

Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes.

The kidneys are your blood purifiers, they filter out the waste or impurities in the blood. If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do their work.

Pains, aches and rheumatism come from excess of uric acid in the blood, due to neglected kidney trouble.

Kidney trouble causes quick or unsteady heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is over-working in pumping thick, kidney-poisoned blood through veins and arteries.

It used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.

You may have a sample bottle by mail. Home of Swamp-Root, free, also pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

STRAIN IS TELLING

Rector Bope May Be Ill as a Result of the Trouble at Zanesville--He Asks Suspension of Opinion Till Matter Has Been Probed.

Zanesville, Sept. 18.—Rector F. W. Bope is showing the effect of the terrible strain of the past few days and he is likely to be sick as a result of the trouble.

Rector Bope states that the only reason he can recall for the enmity of Mr. Gibbs is due to a circumstance which happened some time ago. At that time he had been thrown from his bicycle and covered with mud and hail sick from his fall he boarded a car. The street car company had a rule that all passengers must ride inside. The conductor requested Mr. Bope to go inside the car, and said he would have to do so or get off. Mr. Bope was feeling sick, as well as being so covered with dirt from his fall that he objected to going inside and asked to be allowed to stand on the rear platform. This was refused and the conductor stopped the car and asked Mr. Bope to get off. He did so and the next day wrote a letter to Manager Gibbs detailing the circumstances and asking for an explanation.

To this letter he never received any reply, he alleges, and this is the only reason he can give for the enmity of Mr. Gibbs.

It is understood that the ecclesiastical court will be able to convene some time next week, and the veiled charges against Mr. Bope will be sifted to the bottom.

The statement that Mr. Bope and the members of the vestry of his church follow, and are self-explanatory:

"I ask my friends to suspend judgment until all evidence pro and con shall have been submitted to a court competent to take testimony, and that court shall have made public its findings. I am innocent of all wrong doing, and am absolutely confident of my final and complete vindication. I rejoice that the whole matter will now be fully investigated.

"FRANK W. BOPE."
At a special meeting of the vestry of the St. James church, called by the senior warden, the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

"We the vestry of the St. James church believing in the innocence of our rector, Rev. F. W. Bope, give him our unqualified support. (Signed.)

W. R. HAZLET, Sen. Warden.
A. P. CLARK,
F. T. PHILO,
GEORGE LILIENTHAL,
W. M. TOWNSEND,
JOHN T. DAVIS,
R. P. McCOWEN, Secretary.

The story goes around the town that certain letters written by Bope are the cause of all the trouble and prevailing gossip. It is alleged that in the letters he is given to a stock phrase—that he missed the person addressed in his presence as an inspiration, and that he preached to him personally, and that in his absence he felt at a loss for ideas.

It is understood that Mr. Bope, in his pastoral work, wrote letters to different persons who were accustomed to attend his church. He had a stated form of letter which he sent to any person who was accustomed to attend services, in the event that they were absent several times. To men and women alike he is alleged to have used the same form of letter. "You are an inspiration to me, and I must see you in the church. I feel that I am preaching to you and you alone."

It appears that these stock letters innocently used by Mr. Bope to his church goers and written entirely impersonally seems to have caused a lot of trouble, and it may be that one of these alleged letters forms the choice morsel of gossip that the people of Zanesville have been passing from one to another.

THE UNION ACTS

Labor Asks President to Dismiss Foreman Miller--Resolutions Adopted--Covert Threat Is Made--A Copy of the Circular Issued.

Washington, Sept. 18.—Under the threat of encountering the opposition of organized labor next year, President Roosevelt is asked by the Central Labor Union of this city to dismiss W. A. Miller, the government printing office foreman who was reinstated recently by an executive order.

Miller, it will be remembered was removed by Public Printer Palmer on the ground that he had been expelled from the Bookbinders' union, but when the case was called to the President's attention he ordered Miller's reinstatement, basing his action on the supremacy of the Federal laws over union labor laws. The bookbinders were astounded at the President's action, but immediately formulated charges against Miller, which, if proved, would justify his dismissal. The charges are still pending.

Incensed at the attitude of the President in the Miller case, and also because he declared there must be no discrimination against nonunion men in government departments, the Central Labor Union resolved to bring Mr. Roosevelt to time, if possible. It decided to bring the pressure of the entire American Federation of Labor to bear upon him, and with that end in view prepared a set of resolutions which all Central Labor Unions in the country are asked to endorse.

While the circular issued from this city to kindred organizations throughout the entire United States is not beligerent in tone, labor leaders here do not conceal the fact that behind it lies a settled determination to organize a powerful opposition to the aspirations of the President for re-election, if he declines to accede to their demands for the dismissal of Miller and an unqualified recognition of organized labor. It was asserted today that copies of the resolution have been forwarded to 520 Central Labor unions, representing all the organizations affiliated with the American Federation, and a membership stated to exceed 2,000,000. The resolutions are signed by Charles W. Winslow, secretary of the Washington Central Labor Union.

The resolutions follow:
"Dear Sir and Brother—The preamble and resolutions which follow were unanimously adopted by the Central Labor Union of Washington, D. C.:

"You are earnestly urged to forward your communication to the President of the United States, and request the locals under your jurisdiction to do so with the least delay possible, as this matter is urgent.

"Whereas, the principles of trades unionism are intended to raise the standard of living among the working classes; to instill into their hearts the blessings of free government; to educate them so that they may uphold the law and its representatives; to make them good citizens in time of peace and zealous patriots in time of war; and what has developed into the greatest country on earth, notwithstanding the scorn and scoffs of those that would not swear allegiance; and,

"Whereas, the trades union movement is like unto the thirteen states in that it has its enemies who scoff and refuse to be brought to see the many benefits that accrue to all classes of labor through a union and organization of their interests and forces; and,

"Whereas, the President of the United States has seen fit to reinstate W. A. Miller, who is an expelled member of a trades union, notwithstanding the overwhelming evidence of his moral turpitude, and has also committed himself to the policy of the open shop, as shown by his letters;

"Whereas, the Bookbinders' Union of Washington, D. C., has conservatively recognized the authority of the President to acceding to W. A. Miller's reinstatement and working with him pending final settlement of the case; and,

Whereas, the charges have again been preferred, in strict conformity to Federal law, and reasonable time has been given to W. A. Miller to answer them; therefore, be it

"Resolved, That the order of the President cannot be regarded in any but an unfriendly light; and be it

"Resolved further, That organized labor throughout the country be urged to petition the President of the United States to modify his order of no discrimination and order W. A. Miller's dismissal from the government service, to promote the efficiency of that service."

Friends of the President and officials of the Administration do not disguise a feeling of anxiety over the action of the Central Labor Union, and are hoping that no serious harm will come to Mr. Roosevelt's political ambitions in consequence thereof.

REMAINS

Of Prof. Otto Engwerson, the Former Granville Teacher Will be Brought from Europe.

Mr. Emil Keiswetter of the Ohio National bank, Columbus, who was first apprised of the death of Prof. Otto Engwerson, at Carlsbad, Austria, Wednesday, immediately cabled Dr. T. K. Wissinger and wife the sad news.

Mrs. Wissinger is Mrs. Engwerson's sister. Mrs. Wissinger and her husband were at the Hotel Victoria, London, when they received the news of the death. They were all packed and ready to sail for New York in the evening, but fortunately they got the cablegram, and Thursday morning, Mr. Keiswetter received a reply from them saying they would immediately go to Carlsbad and accompany the remains home.

GAS FIELD

NOTES OF INTEREST FROM THE NEARBY WELLS.

Derrick Going Up on Robert McLee's Place—Utica Gas Supplies Co. shoots Glass Factory.

Utica, O., Sept. 18.—The Herald has the following notes from the gas field this week:

A derrick is going up on Robert McLee's place.

The Central Ohio has located a well on Robert Adams' farm.

Owing to a split pipe the rig had to be moved and a new hole started at the McNaughton well.

Some Utica Gas stock has changed hands at 125, or $12.50 per share, but not much can be found at that price.

The Homer Gas company had the misfortune to get a dry hole, Monday, on the Morgan Beever farm one mile north of Homer.

The Fuel Supply company set stakes Monday for three wells northeast of here, one on Wm. Clutter, one on Dan McMillen, and one on the W. J. Smith tract.

On Monday at a depth of 2,300 feet, a great volume of salt water was struck in the well that Wrikht and Levering are having drilled north of the Brown and Culp wells.

Forbings and Krebs got a dry hole, Monday on the John Graham, farm north of Five Corners in Mulford township. This is about four miles west of the Hunter and other big wells.

A glass factory that uses nearly half a million feet per day began drawing upon the Utica company gas at Co-shooton last week. The Gourley well now supplies Co-shooton by day and the Sperry well by night.

John Workman is having great trouble with salt water at the well he is drilling for the Union company near Danville. It has now been cased and will be drilled to Clinton—if there is any Clinton sand there—in a few days. No wells have been sunk to the Clinton stratum in that section, their gas coming from the Berea. Clinton is estimated to be at a depth of nearly 2,700 feet there, or 400 feet lower than about Utica.

SPORTS

Sidney Will Not Be Here.

The Sidney baseball team without giving any reason for its absence, cancelled the games scheduled for Saturday and Sunday with the Idlewild team.

This put Manager Driscoll in a most embarrassing position, but with characteristic energy he telegraphed and telephoned Urbana, Piqua, Cambridge and several other places. He succeeded in getting the strong Cambridge team to fill in Sunday's date at Newark, so that the game on Saturday will be the only one postponed.

The Cambridge team is managed by Cy Swain, the old Washington pitcher who will probably twirl Sunday's game for his team.

CHRISTIANS AND JEWS IN BATTLE

St. Petersburg, Sept. 18.—Fierce fights between Jews and Christians in which four Christians and two Jews were killed and many persons were seriously injured, are reported from Gomela, in the government of Moghilev.

The disturbances arose Sept. 11, from a dispute between a peasant and a Jewish dealer. The disturbances were renewed three days later, some Jewish booths being demolished.

The Jews attempted to prevent the destruction of the booths, and 20 persons were injured on both sides.

Troops then arrived on the scene and were received with shots from the Jews.

The military returned the fire and ultimately restored order.

Lieutenant Mitchell Was Married and Yesterday He Committed Suicide.

Leavenworth, Kan., Sept. 18.—While his wife was out calling, Lieutenant

James M. Mitchell, Second infantry, and one of the new class of student officers of the general service and staff college, committed suicide by shooting himself at Fort Leavenworth. He made out a check payable to his wife for the amount of money he had in bank and pinned this to a money order received from Manila. They were addressed to Mrs. Mitchell, but gave no reasons for his act. The deceased was married only three weeks ago. His parents live in Preston, Mo.

PLOT

To Assassinate Former Sheriff in Indiana Revealed by Paroled Prisoner's Wife.

Laporte, Ind., Sept. 18.—A plot to assassinate Nathan D. McCormick, former sheriff and one of Laporte's best known citizens, has come to light and as a result the country is being scoured for Edward Casker, a paroled prisoner from the reformatory at Jeffersonville. Mrs. Casker, otherwise known as Miss Lou McFarlane, gave the officers the tip.

Several years ago Casker was sentenced to prison for larceny, but he feigned illness and was held at the county jail for several months while McCormick was sheriff. Casker attempted to commit suicide and afterward when supposed to be on his death bed, was married in jail to Miss McFarlane. Yesterday he confided to his wife the details of the proposed murder of McCormick, for whom Casker had conceived a strong dislike.

Though realizing that it would mean the return of her husband to prison for a long period, the woman could not bear the thought of a probable murder, and so hastened to put McCormick on his guard.

THE COURTS

HANNAH BLAMER BEGINS SUIT FOR DAMAGES.

Geo. Carter Wants a Divorce—Bankruptcy Case—Slander Suit Dismissed—Notes.

Hannah Blamer, by her attorney S. Leamon, has commenced suit in the Common Pleas court against Walter Roberts for $2000 damages for defamation of character. The plaintiff says that on Sept. 1, the defendant, in a certain discourse, in the presence and hearing of certain persons, accused her of stealing roasting ears.

Divorce Suit.

George Carter by his attorney, G. C. Daugherty, has filed his petition in the Common Pleas court, praying for a divorce from his wife, Frances Carter. The parties were married April 7, 1897, and no children were born of said marriage. For cause of action willful absence and disregard of her marital duties are the grounds on which action is brought.

Juror Excused.

E. O. Arison of Pataskala, who was drawn as a petit juror for the September term of the Court for Common Pleas, has been excused by Judge Seward.

Transcript Filed.

A transcript from the docket of 'Squire Dorsey, of Granville, in the case of George W. Williams against the Newark and Zanesville Street railway has been filed in the common pleas court.

Bankruptcy Petition.

Columbus, O., Sept. 18.—In United States court for the Southern district of Ohio, John A. Conard, of Burlington township, Licking county, has filed a petition in voluntary bankruptcy. The chief and only creditor is Alvida Wade, of Mt. Vernon, O., who was given a judgment for $2,750 and $255.35 costs against Wade. In his petition he asserts that he has no personal property, realty or assets of any kind. The petition is remarkable in that only one creditor is mentioned and the bankrupt has not one cent of property.

Damage Suits Dismissed.

The $10,000 damage suits brought against George B. Sprague by Miss Ethel Rex and George L. Miller, the florist, for alleged slander, have been dismissed, the matter having been settled by the interested parties.

Electric Road Suit.

The village of Granville by its attorney, Roderic Jones, has commenced suit in the Common Pleas court against the Newark and Granville Street Railway company to compel it to comply with the provisions of the franchise.

Numerous provisions stipulated in the ordinance granting the franchise are set forth in which the company is said to be derelict. The village complains that at the east corporation line of the village the track does not run along the south side of Broadway, contiguous to the hill.

That the defendant has not laid all its track with modern T rails, that it does not keep the space between the rails of its track and one foot on the outer side of each rail and the space between the main track and the switch filled even with the tops of the rails.

That certain crossings have not been constructed.

That the poles of the defendant have not been painted.

That the trees in the village are in many cases not perfectly insulated, and in some cases not insulated at all, causing the trees, the limbs of which are touched, to be dangerous in damp weather to any one who might happen to touch them.

That at no time has the defendant since the granting of the franchise, run its cars over their tracks every 60 minutes from 5:30 a. m. to 11:30 p. m.

That at various times the defendant has refused to run its cars to the station of the T. & O. C. railway when there were passenger for the depot.

That the defendant has neglected and still neglects and refuses to perform the stipulations in the franchise.

The plaintiff therefore prays the court that said franchise and all the rights and privileges contained therein be decreed forfeited, unless the defendant within such a time as may seem reasonable to the Court, conforms to the conditions in the franchise; that unless the defendant shall within such reasonable time as may be set by the Court conform to the provisions in the franchise, that the defendant be perpetually enjoined from continuing to exercise any of the rights and privileges purported to be granted in the franchise, and ordered to remove its tracks, wires and poles from the streets of the village. Or that if the noncompliance by the defendant with the conditions of the franchise be not deemed by the Court to work a forfeiture of said franchise, that the defendant may be ordered to specifically perform the stipulations in the franchise within such time as may seem reasonable, and in case of failure to do so, that the defendant be perpetually enjoined from operating its railway, or exercising franchise in any other way than that laid down in the franchise and ordered by the Court, and for all further and equitable relief that the plaintiff may be entitled to.

JAS. SIMPSON

FORMER MT. STERLING RESIDENT IS KILLED.

Octogenarian Walked in Front of an Engine at Zanesville on Thursday Afternoon.

Zanesville, O., Sept. 18—James Simpson, aged 82, stepped in front of a B & O. train, No. 104, yesterday afternoon, and was killed instantly.

Simpson was walking along the foot path between the tracks on the Muskingum bridge when the train rounded the curve and dashed over the bridge. Just before it reached him, he stepped from the place of safety between the tracks and walked deliberately in front of the locomotive.

Four men standing near the bridge saw the catastrophe. They were H. R. and A. W. Albright, D. M. Herndon and George Nancey. They state it was the opinion that Mr. Simpson was deceived by the curve in the track and unwittingly walked to his death, supposing the oncoming train to be on the other track.

The body was badly mangled both legs being cut off.

Dr. J. D. Matthews, coroner, viewed the body but considered an inquest unnecessary. In his opinion the dead man's hearing was impaired.

Simpson lived with a married daughter, Mrs. Austin Baughman, in the old Seventh ward. He formerly lived at 311 Sterling. This county.

HAYDEN DEMURS

To the Sensational Charges Made by Mrs. Deborah Rafferty.

Watertown, N. Y., Sept. 18—John Harold Hayden, a wealthy New Yorker, has demurred to the complaint in the case of Deborah M. Rafferty, of Alexandria Bay, against him on the grounds that two actions, one for assault and one for alienation of husband's affections, are improperly united.

Action is brought to recover $25,000 for alienation of husband's affections, the husband being George B. Rafferty, son of Millionaire Gilbert T. Rafferty, of Pittsburg, who, complainant alleges, was in a conspiracy to separate her and her husband. Among other things she alleges that Hayden drugged her and took her through the streets of Alexandria Bay at a time when she was unconscious and there took liberties with her. She also claimed that Hayden said that Rafferty had offered him $15,000 to separate her and his son.

Johnson meeting here tonight.
